The members of the group have had a supportive and respectful attitude.
188 responses

The “agree/strongly agree” answers go over 91% in the three cases, so we are satisfied with the results. The best results are about the group-work performance (up to 69% and 59% “strongly agree”) which are significant results for the meeting since they worked in international groups that had been set up only a few days before. The other two aspects get lower results (up to 45% and 47% “strongly agree”) since they are related with the use of English, a non-mother tongue language. This is actually one of the project’s aims, to improve the English level of all the participants, both pupils and teachers. We believe that these practices will help to accomplish it.

8. Have you improved your motivation in learning by using the STEAMS proposal?

59 responses

Overall, the STEAMS procedure is accepted by most of the participants as an interesting approach to learn. It gets almost 50% in score 5 and 83% in total 4-5. Even though we the teachers have to continue improving it in order to motivate the 17% of participants who were not as engaged as the others.

The pupils of 9th year "European Projects" subject visited the Meeting. They work in the project preparing online materials.
